MUSEUMS

Adventure through the rich and colorful story of the Silver State as it unfolds in seven Nevada State Museums. Unearth eras marked by prehistoric giants and eons of natural splendor, experience rhythms of American Indian life and the Old West, feel the booms of mining, railroading, the atomic era, entertainment, and so much more.

NEVADA HISTORICAL SOCIETY, RENO

Preserving and sharing stories of the deep roots, daring adventures, and fascinating lives of many centuries of Nevadans, the Nevada Historical Society’s archives are home to scores of materials, from photos and newspapers to hand-written memories, chronicling the riveting rise of the Silver State.

MORE THAN JUST A TRAIN RIDE
Building the Hoover Dam took more than a heroic effort... It also took a railroad. The Boulder Branch Line, built in 1931, lives on as the Boulder City Railroad's excursion train—a scenic 45-minute, seven-mile roundtrip rail ride, located less than 30 minutes from Las Vegas.
